International Medieval Congress

01-04 July 2024

The International Medieval Congress (IMC) is the largest annual gathering of medievalists in Europe, focusing upon all aspects of the Middle Ages (c. 300-1500). Participants at the IMC present research in all areas of medieval studies, ranging from art and literature to science and technology.

IMC 2023 saw over 2,600 attendees attend the second hybrid-format IMC, with 86% of these attending in person. Now in its 31st year, IMC 2024 will take place in the University of Leeds campus, whilst retaining an option for virtual attendance for those unable to travel.

Drawing medievalists from over 60 countries, with over 2,000 individual papers, 680 academic sessions, and a range of concerts, performances, round tables, excursions, the Bookfair, and associated events, we expect to welcome over 2,500 attendees to IMC 2024.

The IMC offers a unique opportunity for publishers, booksellers, and other organisations to market to this specialist audience, both at the event itself, through its established and popular Bookfair and receptions, and through the IMC 2024 online event platform, mobile app, programme, and registration packs.

If you wish to take advantage of any of the opportunities outlined in this booklet, please book online at <https://www.imc.leeds.ac.uk/exhibitors> or contact us at imc@leeds.ac.uk.

IMC 2024 Bookfair

Location

The International Medieval Congress 2024 Bookfair will take place in the iconic Parkinson Building. Academic sessions will be held in the building along with registration pack collection. Complimentary refreshments are available for all delegates, including exhibitors, throughout the day.

All stall holders will also benefit from a virtual booth in the IMC 2024 online event platform and listing on the IMC website.

Why Exhibit?

The IMC offers the opportunity to meet a greater number of medievalists than any other event in Europe. Below is some of the feedback from previous delegates and exhibitors.

💬 'So much temptation!'

Delegates described the Bookfair as 'one of the main reasons to attend the IMC' and 'always a highlight'. Delegates spoke positively of the 'excellent range of booksellers'.

💬 'A crucial event for medieval studies'

Some of the best features of the IMC were that it provided the opportunity to show off new titles, meet with existing and potential authors, and sell books.

Bookfair Schedule

Book deliveries for stands at the IMC will be accepted from Monday 24 June - Friday 28 June. Please note that the IMC is unable to accept pallet deliveries.

IMC 2024 Bookfair Reception

Each year, to celebrate the opening of the IMC Bookfair, all delegates are invited to an evening wine reception with extended opening times on the first day of the IMC. This special event is an excellent opportunity for exhibitors to continue networking with a captive audience, meet new authors, or make that extra sale. Please note this event may be subject to reduced capacities, and will not go ahead if University/Government restrictions prohibit it.

IMC 2024 Virtual Bookfair

Exhibitors can choose whether to exhibit virtually, in-person, or both! All publishers booking a stand at the Bookfair in Leeds will receive an exhibitor profile on our online event platform, allowing you to increase engagement with delegates in Leeds and online and maximise your exposure at IMC 2024. Please see pages 8-9 for more details.
