

Center for Medieval & Renaissance Studies
 SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY

JUNE 14–16, 2027

The Annual Symposium on Medieval and Renaissance Studies

offers a convenient summer venue in North America for scholars in all disciplines to present their research. All topics are welcome.

Main 2027 Theme: Virtues and Vices.

To learn more, visit us online at smrs-slu.org.

SPECIAL THEMED SESSIONS

Jewish and Christian Allegorical Traditions: 12th–14th Centuries

contact: James Adam Redfield
 (james.redfield@slu.edu)

Ideas and Intellectual Networks of the Long 12th Century

contact: Atria A. Larson (atria.larson@slu.edu)

Global Story Cycles of the Middle Ages

contact: Yea Jung Park
 (yeajung.park@slu.edu)

Zoroastrianism in Medieval Worlds

contact: Kayla Dang
 (kayla.dang@slu.edu)

The Reception of Boethius in the Medieval and Renaissance Periods

contact: Anthony G. Cirilla
 (acirilla@cofo.edu)

Societies or groups of scholars are warmly invited to host a conference within the larger Symposium. For more information about “mini-conferences” and their benefits, reach out to SMRS organizers at smrs@slu.edu.

Deadlines:

Mini-Conference Inquiry: August 15, 2026

Expression of Interest in Special Themed Sessions: November 1, 2026

All Paper and Session Submissions: December 31, 2026

